

Comparison Chart for: CFRA, the FMLA and PDL

	FMLA	CFRA	PDL
Pregnancy disability covered as a serious health condition?	Yes, covers both pregnancy disability and birth or adoption	No requirement for a serious health condition for employee or child; birth or adoption only	Yes, covers employees disabled by pregnancy only
Covered employer	50+ employees	50+ employees	5+ employees
Eligible employee	12 months and 1250 hours	12 months and 1250 hours	None
Duration	12 weeks	12 weeks	17.3 weeks of 122 days
Discrimination provision	Protected by all anti-discrimination laws, including Title VII, ADA, Pregnancy Discrimination Act	No discrimination nor retaliation for use of leave	Pregnancy-related discrimination prohibited
Certification	Employer may require	Employer may require, but cannot require diagnosis	Employer may require (different standard than the FMLA/CFRA)
Employee notice	30 days if foreseeable, or as soon as practicable	30 days if foreseeable, or as soon as practicable	30 days if foreseeable, or as soon as practicable
Employer response to leave request [Note: The March 2002 Supreme Court decision in Ragsdale v. Wolverine Worldwide Inc. clarified the employer's responsibilities in providing advance notice that leave may be counted as FMLA leave. Although the lack of advance notice does not entitle employees to more than 12 weeks of FMLA leave, employers should make a good faith effort to provide advance notice and have clear and well-communicated policies about what types of leave constitute FMLA	Within 5 business days of an employee's request unless extenuating circumstances	As soon as practicable, no later than 10 calendar days after an employee's request	As soon as practicable, no later than 10 calendar days leave. See, Employment Law: The Supreme Court Reins in the FMLA (Slightly) ].

Intermittent or reduced leave	When medically necessary, in time blocks as small as payroll system permits; for birth or adoption, must have employer's consent	When medically necessary, in time blocks as small as payroll system permits; for birth or adoption, in two-week increments	When medically necessary, in time blocks as small as payroll system permits
Substituting paid leave	Employee may choose, or employer may require; employer need not permit use of sick leave for other than reasons specified in leave policy	Employee may choose, or employer may require; sick leave for other than employee's own medical illness requires both employer and employee to agree	Employer or employee may require use of paid sick leave. Employee may choose to substitute paid vacation or personal leave, but employer may not require
Continuation of benefits	Employer must maintain coverage under group health plan under same condition; can require employee to pay his/her portion of the premiums	Employer must maintain group health benefits for the duration of the leave	Employer must maintain coverage under group health plan for the duration of disability period
Right to reinstatement	Same or equivalent position; key employee exception	Same or comparable position; few defenses are available, including being key employee and grievous economic injury	Same position; few defenses are allowed to deny reinstatement

Comparison between New Family and Medical Leave Act (FMLA) and California Family Rights Act (CFRA) Regulations

FOUR BIG DIFFERENCES BETWEEN CFRA AND FMLA

TERM:

Pregnancy as a “Serious Health Condition” (SHC)

FMLA 29 C.F.R. 825.100, et. Seq.):

Covered as a Family and Medical Leave Act (FMLA) serious health condition. (825.120)

No change with new FMLA regulations.

CFRA (California Code of Regulations, Title 2, 7297.0, et. Seq.):

**Not covered under CFRA.

A pregnant employee is entitled to a pregnancy disability leave (PDL) of up to 4 months. Eligible employees can take a 12-week CFRA baby bonding leave. First 12 weeks of PDL can run concurrently with FMLA for eligible employees and for that period, the employer needs to maintain health benefits. [§7291.2 (o)]

TERM:

Registered domestic partners equal spouses

FMLA 29 C.F.R. 825.100, et. Seq.):

Not covered under FMLA.

No change with new FMLA regulations.

CFRA (California Code of Regulations, Title 2, 7297.0, et. Seq.):

**Covered under CFRA, just like spouses. (Fam. Code §297.5)

TERM:

“Qualifying Exigency” because of employee’s or family member’s active military duty

FMLA 29 C.F.R. 825.100, et. Seq.):

**Eligible FMLA employees are entitled to up to 12 weeks of leave for “any qualifying exigency” arising because the spouse, son, daughter, or parent of the employee is on active military duty, or has been notified of an impending call to active duty status, in support of a contingency operation. Health benefits are included. The family member must be a member of the Guard, Reserve, or be a retired member of the Armed Services. (825.126)

Effective October 28, 2009, the Fiscal Year 2010 National Defense Authorization Act (NDAA 2010) amended this entitlement. The amendment now includes the regular Armed Force and deployment no longer has to be in support of a contingency operation. Deployments to a foreign country are not covered.

CFRA (California Code of Regulations, Title 2, 7297.0, et. Seq.):

Not covered under CFRA. Thus, CFRA leave not exhausted when FMLA used.

TERM:

Care for ill or injured service member

FMLA 29 C.F.R. 825.100, et. Seq.):

**An employee who is the spouse, child, parent or next of kin of a covered service member may take a total of 26 weeks of leave during a 12-month period to care for a covered service member who is ill or injured in the line of duty on active duty. Health benefits are included. (825.127)

Effective October 28, 2009, the Fiscal Year 2010 National Defense Authorization Act (NDAA 2010) amended this entitlement. The amendment extends the ability of an employee to take leave to care for a veteran who is undergoing medical treatment, recuperation, or therapy for a serious injury or illness. The veteran must have been a member of the Armed Forces (including the National Guard or Reserves) at any time within five (5) years preceding treatment.

CFRA (California Code of Regulations, Title 2, 7297.0, et. Seq.):

Covered under CFRA if family member is a covered CFRA employee, i.e., a spouse, child or parent. [7297.0(h)(2)] If “next of kin” is not within these categories, CFRA leave would not be exhausted when FMLA used.

Furthermore, CFRA leave is only 12 weeks, so last 14 weeks would be FMLA only.

PREGNANCY AND BABY BONDING

TERM:

Minimum duration of bonding intermittent leave

FMLA 29 C.F.R. 825.100, et. Seq.):

Eligible employees may work an intermittent or reduced schedule for baby bonding only if the employer agrees. [825.120(b) & 825.121(b)]

No change with new FMLA regulations.

CFRA (California Code of Regulations, Title 2, 7297.0, et. Seq.):

**No requirement that employer agrees. Basic minimum leave duration is two weeks for CFRA-only baby bonding leave. But, employer must grant a request for leave of less than two weeks' duration on any two occasions.

TERM:

Reinstatement

FMLA 29 C.F.R. 825.100, et. Seq.):

**Reinstatement required to the same or equivalent position. (825.214)

No change with new FMLA regulations.

CFRA (California Code of Regulations, Title 2, 7297.0, et. Seq.):

**CFRA has same reinstatement rights as FMLA. [7297.2(a).]

** Pregnancy disability leave (PDL) requires reinstatement to same position (not just comparable). [7291.9(a)]

LIMITATIONS ON LEAVE FOR SPOUSES/PARENTS WORKING FOR SAME EMPLOYER

TERM:

Family leave to care for parent, for child's birth; to care for child after birth, or for placement of a child through foster care or adoption.

FMLA 29 C.F.R. 825.100, et. Seq.):

If both husband and wife work for same employer, leave is limited to 12 weeks between the spouses:

- to care for a parent's SHC (new regulations);
- for child's birth;
- to care for the child after birth; or
- for placement of a child through adoption; or foster care.

Each spouse's unused portion of FMLA leave would still be available for other purposes, such as employee's or child's SHC. If one spouse employee is not FMLA-eligible, other eligible FMLA employee would have entire 12 weeks of leave. [825.120(a)(3); 825.201(b)]

No change with new FMLA regulations.

*Unmarried parents (including same sex parents) are not subject to these restrictions.

CFRA (California Code of Regulations, Title 2, 7297.0, et. Seq.):

**Employer may limit leave to a combined total of 12 weeks if both parents work for the same employer and leave is for the birth, adoption or foster care placement of their child. The CFRA regulations specifically state, "The employer may not limit their entitlement to CFRA leave for any other qualifying purposes." [7297.1(c)]

**No CFRA limitation on spouses caring for parents.

ESTABLISHING COVERAGE

TERM:

Establishing a serious health condition (SHC)

FMLA 29 C.F.R. 825.100, et. Seq.):

No change under the new regulations except for the following clarifications (825.113 & 825.115): An employee establishes that he/she has a SHC by:

- Visiting a Health Care Provider (HCP) on 2 occasions & having more than 3 days of incapacity associated with the condition.
- The 1st visit establishing a SHC must occur in person within 7 days of the incapacity along with treatment (i.e., prescription medication).
- The 2 visits must occur within a 30-day period from the onset of the initial incapacity; and
- The HCP, not the employee, must determine if a 2nd visit is needed during the 30 day period.
- New regulations: For purposes of establishing a chronic condition, “periodic” visits to a HCP means
- visiting a HCP twice or more per year for the same condition.

CFRA (California Code of Regulations, Title 2, 7297.0, et. Seq.):

**CFRA references old FMLA regulations to establish a SHC. [7297.0(o)(2)]

Note: CFRA does NOT include Pregnancy as a SHC (7297.6(b).) and that is why a disabled, pregnant woman in California is eligible for up to seven months of leave pregnancy disability leave (PDL)/FMLA (for own pregnancy-related disability) and then CFRA (bonding) [7297.6(d)]

DFEH will keep the “95 FMLA regulations and will not implement the:

- Full days provision
- 7 day requirement
- 2 treatments within 30 days

TERM:

Establishing need to care for family member with a SHC

FMLA 29 C.F.R. 825.100, et. Seq.):

New regulations: Clarify that “incapable of self-care because of a mental or physical disability” is determined at the time the FMLA leave commences, not later. As the ADA has been amended to make it easier to establish a disability, more conditions might be determined to be disabilities which would qualify employee to take FMLA leave. [825.122 & 825.124]

CFRA (California Code of Regulations, Title 2, 7297.0, et. Seq.):

**CFRA regulations state that employee may take leave for a covered family member when the family member’s SHC “warrants the participation of the employee.” [7297.0(a)(1)(D)(1)] The definition of SHC does not reference the term disability, instead uses the terms “illness, injury, impairment, or physical or mental condition.” [7297.0(o)]

Continue using CFRA – DFEH will not implement new FMLA regulations.

EMPLOYEE ELIGIBILITY FOR LEAVE

TERM:

Break in service

FMLA 29 C.F.R. 825.100, et. Seq.):

New regulations: Clarify that an employee is eligible for FMLA leave so long as the employee has worked for an employer for a total of 12 months, even with a break in service. The break can be up to 7 years & even longer in certain circumstances, .e.g., where the break occurred because of military obligations. [825.110(b)(1)]

CFRA (California Code of Regulations, Title 2, 7297.0, et. Seq.):

** Employee is eligible for leave so long as employee has worked for employer a total of 12 months (even if there’s been a break in service) and worked 1,250 hours in past year. [7297.0(e)]

TERM:

Re-qualifying for leave

FMLA 29 C.F.R. 825.100, et. Seq.):

**New regulations: Clarify that an employee does not need to meet the eligibility tests again to requalify for extra intermittent leave within the 12-month period if the additional leave is requested for the same qualifying reason. [825.110(e)] No change from interpretation of old regulations.

CFRA (California Code of Regulations, Title 2, 7297.0, et. Seq.):

**Same requirement. [7297.0(e)(1)]

TERM:

Counting leave as FMLA leave when eligibility commences “Midsteam”

FMLA 29 C.F.R. 825.100, et. Seq.):

**If an employee is not eligible for FMLA leave at the start of a leave because the employee has not met the 12 month length-of-service requirement, the employee may nonetheless meet this requirement while on leave, because leave time counts toward length of service (although not for the 1,250 hour requirement). The employer should designate the portion of the leave where the employee has met the one year requirement as FMLA leave. (825.110)

CFRA (California Code of Regulations, Title 2, 7297.0, et. Seq.):

No comparable guidance in CFRA regulations.

COMPUTATION OF TIME PERIODS

TERM:

Treatment of holidays

FMLA 29 C.F.R. 825.100, et. Seq.):

** New regulations: When a holiday occurs during an employee's scheduled workweek and the employee is taking a full week of leave, the holiday counts against the employee's 12-week leave entitlement. If the employee is taking FMLA leave in increments of less than a week, the time counts against the FMLA entitlement only if the employee was required to work on the holiday. [825.200(h)]

CFRA (California Code of Regulations, Title 2, 7297.0, et. Seq.):

CFRA regulations have no similar provision for leave taken in less-than-a-week increments.

CFRA regulations do follow the remaining part of this FMLA regulation, 825.200(h), which provides that if a holiday falls within a CFRA leave week, the entire week is counted as CFRA leave. If however, the employer's business activity has temporarily ceased for some reason and the employees are not expected to report for work for 1 or more weeks (e.g., a two week holiday school closing, summer vacation or a plant retooling closing), the days the employer's activities have ceased do not count against the employee's CFRA entitlement. [7297.3(c)(3)]

INTERMITTENT LEAVE

TERM:

Scheduling Intermittent Leave

FMLA 29 C.F.R. 825.100, et. Seq.):

New regulations: Employees who need intermittent or reduced schedule leave for planned medical treatment must make a “reasonable effort” to schedule the treatment to unduly disrupt their employer’s operations. (825.202)

CFRA (California Code of Regulations, Title 2, 7297.0, et. Seq.):

Same requirement.

CFRA regulations: If the employee’s need for leave pursuant to this section is foreseeable due to a planned medical treatment or supervision, the employee shall make a reasonable effort to schedule the treatment or supervision to avoid disruption to the operation of the employer, subject to the approval of the health care provider of the individual requiring the treatment or supervision. (GC 12945.2 (i))

TERM:

Intermittent leave increments

FMLA 29 C.F.R. 825.100, et. Seq.):

New regulations: Employer may use a time increment for absences or leave use no greater than the shortest time period that the employer uses for other forms of leave provided that it is not greater than 1 hour and that an employee’s FMLA leave entitlement is not reduced by more than the leave amount actually taken. Limited exception where it is physically impossible for the employee to begin/end work mid-shift (e.g., pilot or firefighter); then entire period that employee is forced to be absence is FMLA leave (825.205)

CFRA (California Code of Regulations, Title 2, 7297.0, et. Seq.):

**An employer may limit leave increments to the shortest period of time that the employer’s payroll system uses to account for absences or use of leave. [7297.3(e)]

TERM:

Calculating intermittent leave

FMLA 29 C.F.R. 825.100, et. Seq.):

**New regulations: To calculate an employee's leave entitlement when an employee works a schedule that varies from week to week, employers are required to use a 12 month average of hours worked prior to the commencement of the employee's FMLA leave. [825.205(b)]

CFRA (California Code of Regulations, Title 2, 7297.0, et. Seq.):

CFRA regulations: Employee is entitled to 12 of the employee's "normally scheduled workweeks" for intermittent leave with no guidance on how to average those hours to come up with a "normally scheduled workweek." [7297.3(c)]

TERM:

Overtime and intermittent leave

FMLA 29 C.F.R. 825.100, et. Seq.):

New regulations: If an employee would have been required to work overtime hours but could not because of a FMLA-qualifying condition, the employee may be charged FMLA leave for the hours not worked. Employers cannot discriminate in the assignment of OT to deplete FMLA leave takers from their FMLA leave entitlement. [825.205(c)]

CFRA (California Code of Regulations, Title 2, 7297.0, et. Seq.):

**No comparable CFRA requirement.

TERM:

Docking pay of exempt employees

FMLA 29 C.F.R. 825.100, et. Seq.):

Employers may dock exempt employees' pay for FMLA intermittent leave/reduced work schedule when paid leave exhausted. [825.206(a)]

CFRA (California Code of Regulations, Title 2, 7297.0, et. Seq.):

**CFRA does not cover this issue. But in a CA DLSE Opinion Letter 2002-03-01, the then-Labor Commissioner stated that CA employers may treat exempt employees like non-exempt employees for the amount of CFRA leave taken (for leave that runs concurrently with FMLA).

SUBSTITUTION OF PAID LEAVE

TERM:

Vacation, compensating time off, sick leave and disability benefits

FMLA 29 C.F.R. 825.100, et. Seq.):

Paid leave policy: Employer may require that employees meet the terms and conditions (e.g., give requisite notice or use leave in certain increments) of using paid leave if they want to substitute it for unpaid FMLA leave (i.e., have the paid leave run concurrently). [825.207(a)]

Supplementing disability benefits: Employer and employee may agree (but can't require) that other forms of accrued time (sick leave, vacation, and CTO) can augment paid disability payments while on FMLA. [825.207 (d) and (e)]

CFRA (California Code of Regulations, Title 2, 7297.0, et. Seq.):

**The MOU does not allow the employer to require use of leave credits. Employees may elect to use leave credits.

No distinction made in CFRA regulations between employers w/without paid leave policies. Employer or employee may require use of vacation, other CTO [7297.5(b)(1) and (b)(2)] or sick leave ( for employee's own SHC). Employer or employee may mutually agree to use sick leave for any other reason. [725.5(b)(3)]

No regulation on supplementing disability benefits with other forms of paid leave.

Employers must give employees notice of SDI/PFL benefits at time of hire and when given notice of qualifying event.

TERM:

No mention of qualifying leave reason

FMLA 29 C.F.R. 825.100, et. Seq.):

If employee does not give "sufficient information" for the employer to know requested leave is potentially FMLA-qualifying (whether paid or unpaid), the employee will not be entitled to have the leave designated as FMLA protected.

New regulations clarify what is “sufficient information.” [825.301(b)]

CFRA (California Code of Regulations, Title 2, 7297.0, et. Seq.):

**If an employee requests vacation or CTO without reference to a qualifying purpose, the employer may not ask whether the employee is taking the time off for a CFRA-qualifying purpose. [7297.5(b)(2)(A)]

TERM:

Denied leave request, employee then gives family leave-qualifying reason

FMLA 29 C.F.R. 825.100, et. Seq.):

If the employer denies the employee’s request, and the employee then provides information that the requested time off is (or may be) for FMLA leave, the employer may inquire further into the reasons for the absence. If it’s a FMLA purpose, employer must grant leave but can then charge it against employee’s vacation or CTO. [825.301(b)]

CFRA (California Code of Regulations, Title 2, 7297.0, et. Seq.):

Same requirement. [7297.5(b)(2)(A)(1)]

**The MOU does not allow the employer to require use of leave credits. Employees may elect to use leave credits.

TERM:

Sufficient notice of leave

FMLA 29 C.F.R. 825.100, et. Seq.):

Calling in sick in the case of unforeseeable leave is not enough to trigger an employer’s obligation to determine if the leave is possibly FMLA-protected. When an employee seeks leave due to a FMLA qualifying reason for which the employer has previously provided FMLA-protected leave, the employee must specifically reference the qualifying reason for leave in notifying the employer. (825.302(d).)

CFRA (California Code of Regulations, Title 2, 7297.0, et. Seq.):

**No comparable CFRA regulation.

EMPLOYER NOTICE REQUIREMENTS

TERM:

For all types of leave

FMLA 29 C.F.R. 825.100, et. Seq.):

Employers must post a specific notice for employees explaining their leave rights. (825.300) New regulations now clarify electronic posting is okay.

Notice must be posted in a conspicuous place where applicants and employees tend to congregate. [825.300(a)(1)]

If the employer publishes an employee handbook or other written guidance to employees on employee benefits or leave rights, employers must include all information contained in the poster in the handbook/guidance. If no written guidance exists, all of the poster's information must be distributed to employees upon hiring in writing or electronically. [825.300(a)(3)]

CFRA (California Code of Regulations, Title 2, 7297.0, et. Seq.):

**Same posting requirements. (7297.9)

In addition to the required notification, California's Department of Fair Employment and Housing (DFEH) provides informational brochures that may, but are not required, to be distributed to employees. A sample copy of the DFEH brochures, California Family Rights Act Brochure - English, or the California Family Rights Act Brochure - Spanish, may be viewed on DFEH's website, www.dfeh.ca.gov. This may be copied and distributed to employees.

TERM:

Notice requirements: employers subject to PDL and family leave

FMLA 29 C.F.R. 825.100, et. Seq.):

Federal law requires posting WH 1420 (FMLA Poster) (App. C to Part 825.)

CFRA (California Code of Regulations, Title 2, 7297.0, et. Seq.):

State law requires a combined PDL/CFRA notice. [7297.9(a) and (d)]

LEAVE DESIGNATION

TERM:

Notifying employee leave was approved

FMLA 29 C.F.R. 825.100, et. Seq.):

**When the employee puts the employer on notice of the need for leave, the employer must provide employee with notice of their rights and responsibilities if leave taken should qualify for FMLA. When the employee has sufficient information to determine whether leave is FMLA protected (e.g., once medical certification is returned), an employer must notify an employee within 5 business days (old regulations, 2 days) whether the employee is leave eligible and, if not, state at least one reason why not. If the employer wants a fitness for duty certification before employee can return to work, the designation notice must include this requirement and a statement of the employee's essential job functions. [825.300(d)]

CFRA (California Code of Regulations, Title 2, 7297.0, et. Seq.):

CFRA regulations require 10 business days' notice. [7297.4(a)(6)]

CFRA regulations don't require employer to give reason for failure to grant CFRA leave nor to provide employee with a list of employee's essential job functions to give to the employee's health care provider.

TERM:

Retroactive Designation

FMLA 29 C.F.R. 825.100, et. Seq.):

New regulations: Employers may retroactively designate leave as FMLA leave, as long as there is no individualized harm. If there is harm, employer may be liable. (825.301)

CFRA (California Code of Regulations, Title 2, 7297.0, et. Seq.):

**CFRA regulations follow FMLA regulations: "Employers may not retroactively designate leave as 'CFRA leave' after the employee has returned to work, except under those same circumstances provided for in FMLA & its implementing regulations for retroactively counting leave as 'FMLA leave.'" [7297.4(a)(1)(B)]

MEDICAL CERTIFICATION

TERM:

Identifying the employee's own serious health condition (SHC)

FMLA 29 C.F.R. 825.100, et. Seq.):

New regulations: Allow employers to ask for a diagnosis of what is the SHC. [825.306(a)(3).]

If additional leave is requested at the end of the period that the health-care provider originally estimated the employee needed for family leave, the employer may require the employee to obtain recertification. (825.307)

CFRA (California Code of Regulations, Title 2, 7297.0, et. Seq.):

**CFRA regulations specify that an employer cannot ask for a diagnosis, but it may be provided at employee's option. [7297.4(b)(2)]

Employees have provided sufficient information to make a determination under the CFRA if they provide:

- The date, if known, on which the SHC began;
- The probable duration of the condition; and
- A statement that, due to the SHC, the employee is unable to work at all or is unable to perform any one or more of the essential functions of his/her position.

Departments may use the fill in and print forms DPA has standardized. The forms are: (1) "Notice of Eligibility and Rights and Responsibilities" (DPA 752); (2) "Designation Notice" (DPA 753); (3) "Certification of Health Care Provider for Employee's Serious Health Condition" (DPA 754); (4) "Certification of Health Care Provider for Family Member's Serious Health Condition" (DPA 755); (5) "Certification of Qualifying Exigency for Military Family Leave" (DPA 756); and (6) "Certification for Serious Injury or Illness of Covered Servicemember for Military Caregiver Leave" (DPA 757).

TERM:

Second and third opinions for employee's SHC

FMLA 29 C.F.R. 825.100, et. Seq.):

If the employer doubts the validity of the employee's medical certification, the employer may require a second health care opinion, designated & paid for by employer. If first & second opinions conflict, then require and pay for a third opinion (with a provider mutually selected by employer & employee). Third opinion is final and binding. [825.307(b)]

CFRA (California Code of Regulations, Title 2, 7297.0, et. Seq.):

Same requirements.

TERM:

Identifying the family member's serious health condition

FMLA 29 C.F.R. 825.100, et. Seq.):

Certification may identify the SHC involved. [825.306(a)(3)]

CFRA (California Code of Regulations, Title 2, 7297.0, et. Seq.):

**The certification need not but, at the employee's option, may identify the serious health condition involved. [7297(b)(1).]

Employees have provided sufficient information to make a CFRA eligibility determination if they provide:

- The date, if known, on which the SHC came into existence;
- The probable duration of the condition;
- An estimate of the amount of time the health care provider believes the employee needs to care for the child, parent or spouse; and
- A statement that the SHC warrants the participation of the employee to provide care during a period of treatment or supervision of the child, parent or spouse, including providing psychological comfort and arranging "third party" care for the child, parent or spouse and directly providing, or participating in, the medical care.

Employers may use same certification forms as described for employee's own SHC, see above.

TERM:

Second opinion to care for family member

FMLA 29 C.F.R. 825.100, et. Seq.):

New regulations: Authorize employers to get second and third medical opinions regarding the serious health condition of a family member, same as for an employee. [825.307(b)]

CFRA (California Code of Regulations, Title 2, 7297.0, et. Seq.):

**No such authorization is allowed under CFRA regulations. Even if the employer doubts the medical certification for an employee needed to care for a family member, the employer must accept the certification. [7297.4(b)(1)]

TERM:

Background information for second and third opinion providers

FMLA 29 C.F.R. 825.100, et. Seq.):

Employees (or family members) are required to authorize the release of relevant background medical information regarding the condition for which leave is sought from the employee's (or family member's) healthcare provider to the second or third opinion provider. (825.308)

CFRA (California Code of Regulations, Title 2, 7297.0, et. Seq.):

**No comparable provisions in CFRA regulations.

TERM:

Time frame to correct deficient certification

FMLA 29 C.F.R. 825.100, et. Seq.):

If certification is incomplete or insufficient, the employer must state in writing what additional info is necessary and allow the employee 7 calendar days to cure the deficiency. Employee can have extra time to fix medical certification if the employee notifies the employer within the 7 day period that she/he is unable to obtain the additional info despite diligent, good faith efforts. If the deficiencies are not fixed in the resubmitted certification, the employer may deny leave. [825.305(c)]

Employer contact with health care provider

FMLA 29 C.F.R. 825.100, et. Seq.):

Employer representative (but not employee's direct supervisor) may contact the provider to authenticate a certification or to obtain clarification of the provided information after employer has given employee seven days to fix deficiencies (or employee waives this period). Employee or family member must sign a HIPAA release for HCP to discuss employee's or family member's condition. If HIPAA release is not signed and employer does not have sufficient information to establish a SHC, leave can be denied. (825.307)

TERM:

Frequency of recertification

FMLA 29 C.F.R. 825.100, et. Seq.):

New regulations: An employer may request recertification:

- Every 30 days in connection with an absence unless the medical certification indicates that the minimum duration is more than 30 days.
- If a longer period is provided, certification cannot occur before the time period expires, unless circumstances change, or an employer has reason to doubt the validity of the initial certification.
- In all cases, employers will be able to request recertification every 6 months, even where the certification states a longer period. A certification which indicates a "lifetime" condition exists is info that indicates the condition will last more than 6 months.

Each new year gives the employer the opportunity to obtain a new "initial" certification, and thus obtain a second and third opinion if there's reason to doubt the validity of the certification. 825.308.

CFRA (California Code of Regulations, Title 2, 7297.0, et. Seq.):

** CFRA regulations provide that "Upon expiration of the time period which the health care provider originally estimated that the employee needed to take care of the employee's child, parent or spouse, the employer may require the employee to obtain recertification if additional leave is requested." [7297.4(b)(1)]

** No provision that a new year gives the employer the opportunity to start over with the certification process.

TERM:

Fitness for duty returning from medical leave for employee's own SHC

FMLA 29 C.F.R. 825.100, et. Seq.):

Intermittent Leave: Employer may require an employee to furnish a fitness-for-duty statement every 30 days if employee's has used intermittent leave and reasonable safety concerns to return exist, provided that the employer includes that requirement in its designation notice. Employer cannot terminate the employee's employment while awaiting the fitness for duty certification for an intermittent or reduced schedule leave of absence.

*Return from a Block of Leave: With new regulations, when an employer provides the employee with a list of the employee's essential job functions in its designation notice, and advises the employee that the certification must address the employee's ability to perform the essential functions of the job, the employer may require the employee's health care provider to certify the employee can perform those duties. (825.312)

CFRA (California Code of Regulations, Title 2, 7297.0, et. Seq.):

**CFRA regulations are silent about fitness for duty statements for intermittent medical leave.

CFRA regulations provide that as a condition of an employee's return from medical leave, the employer may require that the employee obtain a release to "return-to-work" from his/her health care provider stating that he/she is able to resume work only if the employer has a uniformly applied practice or policy of requiring such releases from other employees returning to work after illness, injury, or disability. [7297.4(b)(2)(E)]

** Indicates which law/regulation is more generous to the employee. Where there is a conflict between the provisions of the FMLA and State law, the provision which provides the greater family or medical leave rights to the employee will prevail.
